Symphony Concert Draws Large Crowd

Elks Sponsorship Of Lethbridge Orchestra Draws Packed House.

A sellout crowd packed the Roxy Theatre on Sunday evening to hear the concert staged by the Lethbridge Symphony Orchestra sponsored by Coleman Elks. They were treated to one of the finest musical programs ever heard on a Coleman stage.

Under the dynamic leadership of a former Bellevue boy, Frank Hisek, Jr., the concert thoroughly delighted the large audience and drew consistent applause. Mr. Hisek had selected a well balanced program ranging from Sibelius' "Finlandia" to Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Song".

The Roxy acoustics proved ideal for the presentation of such a program and drew a statement from the young conductor that it was the best they had yet encountered anywhere in their tour of Southern Alberta.

B.P.O.E. officials were pleased with the enthusiastic support given them by Coleman's music lovers and will doubtless plan similar ventures in due course. The full program and personnel of the orchestra follows:

1. Pomp and Chivalry (Grand Processional March), Charles J. R. Overture—Cosi Fan Tutte, W. A. Mozart.
2. Sonatine (1st movement), Kabalevsky, Betty Wood.
3. Finlandia, Jean Sibelius; On Wings of Song, Mendelssohn; Le Tambourin, Old French Dance, J. P. Rameau.
4. Carissima, Arthur A. Penn; Romance, Sigmund Romberg, Francis Cullen.
5. Duo No. V (1st movement), Playel; Juanita Irving and Ethel Parfitt.
6. Petite Suite de Ballet, J. S. Gluck; Overture—Victory, Otis Taylor.
7. Spanish Dance, Granados; Mazurka in A Minor, Chopin, Betty Wood.
8. Villanelle, Eva Dell Aquia; Will O' the Wisp, Charles J. Spross; Because, Guy D. Hardelet, Francis Cullen.
9. Romance, Svendsen, Juanita Irving.
10. Wedding March from Midsummer Night's Dream, F. Mendelssohn; Eastern Dance, Chas Woodhouse; Operatic Stars (selections from the operas); Pomp and Circumstance, Edward Elgar.

God Save The King.

STUDENTS WORKED ON NEW FOREST ROAD

High and Public School Boys Employed to Cut and Burn Brush.

Preliminary work on the Coleman-Kananaskis forest highway got underway this week when forestry officials took advantage of the Easter school holiday to hire about 20 school boys to cut and burn brush in the vicinity of Pelletier's Mill, about four miles north of the Coleman forest ranger station.

Ferstay's Bus Line Plan Improved Schedule

New Bus Expected on Route by Early May.

"Hope to improve the present service both in passenger capacity and frequency of trips, as soon as we receive the new bus from the factory," John Ferstay, proprietor of Ferstay's Bus Line, told The Journal Monday afternoon.

Mr. Ferstay, who operates the only regularly scheduled bus service connecting the Pass towns, expressed hopes that the new bus would reach the Pass by the end of the month. In response to questions concerning the plans for a new schedule, he replied, "we have not yet worked out the details for a new speeded up time-table. A great deal will depend on the continued efficiency of our present vehicles."

He described the urgently needed new bus as being a big improvement on any of the seating capacity was only present units in use, for while 20, increased headroom and wider aisles presented an opportunity for increased efficiency, particularly in "rush hour" periods.

Mining Course For Students

An additional course in mining may be offered to high school students in coal-mining towns in Alberta when the next school term opens in September. School division officials from the Crow's Nest Pass and Drumheller areas conferred recently with W. E. Frame in Edmonton, chief superintendent of schools on some aspects of the proposed course.

It is suggested the regular teachers take care of the theoretical aspects of the subject, but that practical mine work be demonstrated to the students by men employed in the mines.

Clarinet—Bruce Dafeo, Jim Clark, Howard Ellison.
Saxophone—Ken Mellor.
Trumpet—Neil Horlacher, Joe Kunjigais.
Trombone—Rex Little.
Accompanist—Aileen Jones.

Coleman Sports Association Meeting Reveals Progress

Annual Report Favorably Received by Gathering

Coleman's wide awake Community Sports Association enjoyed another successful year it was revealed at the annual meeting on Sunday afternoon when auditor Joseph Emmerson's report showed that a bank balance of $642 still existed despite the Association determined efforts to provide the youth of Coleman with the widest possible forms of athletic and social recreation.

George Jenkins presided over the meeting which accepted the report unanimously. President Jenkins presented the report on the past year's activities and outlined the proposed program for the coming year. He stressed the repair program being carried out on the Skating Arena and declared the executive committee would continue to press additional repair work to the town's winter centre.

In preparation for the coming summer, work was now being rushed on the tennis courts and ball fields to get them ready for use as soon as possible. He charged that horses were being ridden and automobiles driven over some of the playing fields and warned the offenders that police action would result unless the culprits desisted from this harmful practice.

It was decided to call a special meeting of the various sport followers in connection with the drawing up of schedules and practise hours to prevent conflict in allotted times for each pastime.

JOHN APFELBECK INJURED IN MINE ACCIDENT

Eighteen-year-old John Apfelbeck, employed as a haulage worker in the McGillivray mine, escaped with minor shoulder injuries and bruises when struck by a mine car while following his duties at the mine Monday morning.

He was rushed to the C.N.P. municipal hospital where examination by Dr. Aiello failed to disclose any serious injuries, but it was decided to retain the youth for a few days observation period.

Coleman Lion's Club Again Sponsors Cancer Drive

Once again the Coleman Lion's Club have taken over this worthy cause and they hope to equal their record of last year when the citizens of Coleman contributed $1346.50 to this vital work of cancer research. To accomplish this objective it will be necessary to receive an average donation of $2.00 per contributor. The town is again zoned and canvassers will be calling to see you during the two weeks commencing May 2nd. Besides making their own contributions, the canvassers work hard at this job and their task will be greatly simplified if the subscribers will be ready for them and avoid the necessity of a "call back". Every Coleman citizen is aware of the urgency of defeating the cancer menace and the Lion's Club feel sure that once again Coleman will do its share.

Ex Mayor Shackelford of Lethbridge, and District Organizer T.H. Caudwell of Lethbridge, will be the principal speakers at a public meeting and free showing of films at the Roxy theatre, Coleman, on Sunday, May 1st, at 2.30 p.m. Through the courtesy of the management of the theatre the Club is able to bring in these speakers who will undoubtedly have a message for all. In addition Sgt. Murray, R.C.M.P., will give a showing of National Film Board presentations.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank all my relatives and friends for the cards, flowers and other gifts sent me during my recent stay in the Coleman Miners Union Hospital; also many thanks to Drs. Liesemer, Aiello and Brayton and the Nursing Staff for their kind treatment and attention.—Mrs. Joe Wavrecan.

Serious Crossing Accident At Lundbreck

Dog Poisoning May Have Adverted Greater Toll.

Still a little bewildered by the tragic railroad accident which resulted in instant death for their grandfather, Joseph Szmazlarz, and serious injuries to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Szmazlarz and an older sister, three-year-old Merilee and a two-year-old Lorraine Szmazlarz are slowly returning to normal at the Hillcrest home of their mother's sister, Mrs. Bert Karliner.

The children were released from the Pass Municipal hospital late Sunday night in the care of their aunt. "Little Lorraine appeared to be frightened and clung to me all night," Mrs. Karliner told the Journal. The little tot in question sat on a chair during the interview and nursed her daddy's coat. "She hangs on to her daddy's jacket for dear life and keeps drawing my attention to the package of cigarettes in one of the pockets," Mrs. Karliner explained.

Only visible marks of the little one's terrifying ordeal were lacerations on the nose, close to the right eye and a swollen lip. No attempts had been made to question the children concerning the accident said Mrs. Karliner but Merilee, who escaped unscathed, had volunteered a garbled account of the tragedy.

"The choo-choo hit the car and grandpa and mummy are gone away and Daddy's O.K.," she told Mrs. Karliner. Piecing together the three year old's remarks indicates that her father was conscious when removed from the wreckage and had tried to comfort the children in spite of his extensive injuries.

By a strange twist of fate, Mrs. Karliner and her daughter may have accompanied the Szmazlarz family on the trip had it not been for the fact that they were busily engaged treating their dog, a victim of poisoning the night before.

John phoned on Sunday morning to ask about the dog and although we assured him it was going to be alright I guess he figured looking after the dog would prevent us from going along on the Sunday afternoon car ride, as we usually did. I still shudder when I think we might have all been packed into the car," Mrs. Karliner concluded.

Another ironic feature in connection with the tragedy was brought to light by Mrs. Karliner when she told of how the car was to have been driven to a Pass garage on Monday morning for a major overhaul job that was to have tied it up for several weeks.

"It was actually supposed to have gone in a week ago but something came up and it was put off for another seven days."

POLICE ACTION will be taken if person or persons are caught riding horses or taking lumber from the Sports Field or Rodeo Grounds.

AVERTS TRAIN WRECK—John Doran, 12, of Collins Bay village, six miles west of Kingston, Ont., by his alertness and speedy action saved hundreds of passengers in a Toronto-to-Montreal train from possible disaster. Minutes before the "Flyer" was scheduled to pass through Collins Bay, John, noticed a piece of rail, several inches long and broken from the track. He ran 500 yards to the village railway station. Unable to locate the stationmaster, he found his school mate, George Boswell, 16, son of a railway sectionman, Alex Boswell. George brought his father, who picked up flares and a flag and ran three-quarters of a mile west along the track. He flagged the train which screeched to a halt a few feet from the broken rail.—S.N.S. photo.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Don't Jump at Conclusions

By SAMUEL CAMPBELL

You Cannot Help It With This Story.

IRENE squashed another cigarette in the ash tray, threw a hurried glance at the telephone, then went back to the book she was reading—"The Expectant Mother". She had plugged the bell with cotton so that it would buzz, rather than ring. She didn't want to awaken Philip at any cost.

Philip Carleton, Jr., was an irresistible lady-killer. He had that charming, come-hither manner about him that got him exactly what he wanted when he wanted it. Wherever he went, women were drawn to him like moths to a flame. Bobbysoxers drooled over him. Even oldsters admitted he was cute. Philip was not married. Neither was blonde Irene Hayden—pretty and twenty-one. Yet, they both had occupied the same room in a hotel for the past three days and nights. Tonight was the last night.

The society in which Philip travelled had money to burn—cars, boats, butlers, a summer home, and a race horse named after him—Philip II. Yet all this luxury that his parents had laid down at his feet seemed relatively unimportant to him. He gave his whole-hearted attention to the simpler things in life. Even before Philip was born, his life had been laid out for him. On graduation, he would automatically enter the law firm of Carleton, Sr. and Co. But, tonight, he could look back on no such brilliant academic career. He had not even finished high school, let alone university! The girl who was with him knew all these things only too well. Yet she showed no signs of sympathy for Philip or his family; no signs of remorse at all. If anything, she was happy and carefree—except for being anxious about that call.

There were times when she kissed Philip that she might as well have been kissing a brick wall—for all she got in return. He took all her love and all her affection and gave nothing. Still, there was something about him that attracted Irene like a magnet draws iron filings. And there were other reasons, too, why she stayed.

"There was this to be said about Philip Carleton, Jr. He had never been in a hotel room with a girl before. And if there were any irony in the situation, it was in the fact that Philip and Irene were deliberately thrown together by his own mother and father. It was Philip Carleton, Sr., who had insisted on the hotel arrangement.

Now, Irene, with suitcases packed, was waiting for the message that would set her free. The room had been a prison to her in the three days. In a few hours she'd be out—flying across the country to the man she really loved. She looked over at Philip and mused that this time next week she'd be Mrs. Dr. J. J. Gordon, the wife of one of the west coast's most brilliant young surgeons.

"Poor Philip," she whispered. "I'll miss you. We did have a lot of fun together, didn't we? And I wish you good luck and all the happiness in the world."

Philip stirred restlessly. Now that the time to go was drawing near, he sensed a little tinge of sadness. She knew she would cry if she stood there looking at him much longer.

Suddenly the telephone rang. She tiptoed over and picked up the receiver.

A man's voice, the desk clerk's, said unconcernedly: "Mr. and Mrs. Carleton are on their way up now, Miss Hayden."

"Thank you very much," she sighed and hung up. At least this much had happened without waking Philip. She hoped to high heaven that nothing would spoil it, now, till she got completely away.

When Philip's mother and father came, the two suitcases were cut as short as possible. Mrs. Carleton hugged Irene; they both expressed their regret at losing her and wished her happiness in her marriage. The bellboy came for Irene's luggage; Mr. Carleton spoke to her briefly in the hall; and she left.

A few hours later, when the awful truth dawned on Philip Carleton, Jr., that Irene had gone away forever, he cried his eyes out. For even a two-year-old youngster can become attached to his pretty, blonde nurse. (Copyright Wheeler Newspaper Syndicates)

Modern Science Aids Fishermen

NANAIMO, B.C.—A detailed and scientific "fish story" will stand the test of 700 top piscatorial experts at the United Nations World Science Conference at Lake Success Aug. 17. The "fish story" is the work of Dr. J. L. Hart of the Pacific Biological station here. His paper, "Technological Advances in Fishing Methods", has been released for study by the experts—22 of whom are Canadians—and will form a basis for a part of their discussion on methods of boosting living standards.

Dr. Hart says radio, telephone, echo sounders, radar and direction finders are putting more fish on the world's dinner tables than ever before.

Use of complicated equipment, has increased the qualifications needed by the modern fisherman, but better returns and the better life aboard ship make up for the effort required.

Canadian Scientists Aiming To Extend Grass Growing Season

OTTAWA.—Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of the federal experimental farms, was back at his desk after a three-month visit to New Zealand which taught him a few things about pasture land.

Visiting the sister commonwealth, Dr. Archibald found year-round grass, developed by scientists there to meet their climatic conditions and eliminating most of the labor required in cutting and storing hay and other stall food.

Canadian scientists already were working on the problem of improving pasture grasses, he said, and the success of similar work in New Zealand made him confident a new contribution to Canadian agriculture could be made.

"In Canada our grass season is from five to eight months, depending on locality," he explained. "Besides this we have the curse of summer droughts that increase the demand on hay and other similar stores."

"If, in Canada, we can extend the grass season two weeks at both ends and provide a grass that will withstand drought, we will have increased the grass season the equivalent of two months."

In Canada, two acres usually carried one cow with a production of 150 pounds of butterfat, including stall feeding for about half a year. In New Zealand, he saw many farms with year-round grazing and almost no winter feed having to be provided. The butterfat yield often was 300 pounds an acre and sometimes as high as 500 pounds.

While New Zealand had better climatic conditions as a whole, he said, "research and experiment will make, I am sure, an immense contribution to Canadian agricultural prosperity through the improvement of the natural, soil-conserving food—grass."

LACK OF ACCOMMODATION HINDERS ACTIVITIES OF PASS ARMORED UNIT

Quarter Million Dollars Worth of Equipment Not Being Fully Utilized Says Civilian Committee Head

Lack of accommodation is the real drawback to a substantial increase in the activities of the 22nd Armoured Workshop Brigade stationed in Blaimore, Grant Smith, manager of the Royal Bank and chairman of the civilian committee of the brigade said when interviewed recently.

The committee, composed of civilian representatives from Coleman, Blaimore, Frank, Bellevue and Hillcrest, functions in connection with the unit based in the west end section of Blaimore. "There's a quarter of a million dollars worth of equipment housed there," said Mr. Smith, "but it is confined by lack of space with the result that we are unable to get the full benefit of the wonderful opportunities it presents to carry out full scale trade training among those interested in such vital training." As an example of the brigade's purpose, he cited the fact that out of a potential strength of 277, all ranks, 221 would be tradesmen and pointed out the immeasurable advantages to be gained by expanding the space to allow this invaluable trade training to be secured under the best possible trade training conditions.

All Equipment

"The equipment is such," remarked Mr. Smith, "that repairs could be carried out to the finest of watches and to the heaviest machines now in use by the Canadian army." He stressed the fact that Ottawa would probably enlarge the accommodation as soon as it was convinced that materials now being used in the vital construction of home building would become more readily available.

Commenting on the recent meeting of the civilian committee called to hear a report presented by the brigade's commanding officer, Capt. John McDonald of Coleman, Mr. Smith asserted that Capt. McDonald brought back an interesting report of the recent conference of officers of the western command held in Currie Barracks, Calgary.

Capt. McDonald outlined plans for the forthcoming Army Week, May 15 to 21, and it was expected that convoys would visit all Pass towns and stage demonstrations of the unit's equipment.

Easter Holidays In "The Pass"

Glorious Weather Features
Easter Celebration In Pass District.

The glint of brilliant sunshine on the majestic Rockies, thrusting their snow-capped peaks into a cloudless sky, provided a glorious backdrop for the traditional observance of Easter Sunday in the Crows Nest Pass. The fundamental religious principles underlying Christendom's deference to the season of Resurrection were not neglected as hundreds of miners and their families crowded into the valley's many churches to hear the inspirational messages delivered by priests and ministers.

Having paid the primary tribute by their attendance at morning services, the majority of worshippers took advantage of the beautiful afternoon weather to stroll along the sidewalks with frequent stops to engage in conversation and mutual exchange of compliments relative to newly-acquired spring refiners.

Conservative Trend

In contrast to brighter hues fashions of other Easters, this year's adornments reflected a conservative trend in the choice of colors by the women of the Pass. Greys, browns and navy blue were the predominant shades observed on a motoring survey of Coleman, Blaimore, Frank, Bellevue and Hillcrest.

Actually it was the males who injected the color into this year's "parade" as the warm sun presented the youths of the Pass with the opportunity to divest jackets and display an amazing array of tropical-hued sport shirts that would have drawn envious comment from Bing Crosby himself.

Clothing stores and dry cleaning establishments throughout the Pass all reported "Fire Sale" business volume on Saturday and the proprietors and clerks were literally hanging on the ropes when closing time brought respite from the all-day invasion of their premises.

Pass Curlers Disappointed by Bellevue Decision. Lack of Entries from Outside Points Given as Reason

DISAPPOINTMENT

BELLEVUE, April 14—Keen disappointment was registered by Crow's Nest Pass curlers over the decision of the sponsors of Bellevue's Bunny Bonspiel to cancel the eagerly awaited Easter competition. Insufficient entries from outside points forced the Bellevue Curling Club to call off the 'spiel which was scheduled for April 15, 16, 17 and 18.

A goodly number of local rinks had signified their intentions to participate but the good weather of the past few weeks had nullified the prospects of rinks from the farming districts east of the Pass entering the battle for jewelry and reluctantly the 'spiel committee made their cancellation announcement and the arena management immediately turned off the costly artificial ice making machinery.

PLEASE SAY "TAX-PAID" INSTEAD OF "FREE"

The most popular governmental policies are those which lead large sections of voters to believe that they will be given something "free". There is no vote-getting appeal half so potent as the offer of "free" government gifts which come in the form of government cheques.

It is almost impossible for the average voter to realize that he pays to the government, in direct and indirect taxes, what the government sends him in the form of personal remittances. If all "free" government schemes were to be called "tax-paid," voters might eventually come to realize that they are out the considerable bookkeeping cost involved in taking their money away and giving it back to them in order to give governments the appearance of rich and generous parents. — John Atkins, Shingwauk Farm.

CANADA PRODUCES GOLD FOR ALL THE WORLD

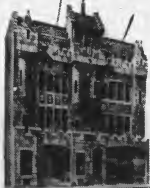

Canada, world's second largest producer of gold, exports more than ninety-five percent of her product—an important contribution to the world supply of this universal medium of international exchange.

Why Seagram's sells Canada first

This is an adaptation of one of a series of advertisements which, for the past two years, The House of Seagram has published in magazines and newspapers printed in many languages and countries throughout the world. These advertisements feature various Canadian products—lumber, salmon, furs, nickel, apples, plywood and many others.

Nature has endowed our country with an almost limitless supply of valuable resources. Properly used and converted to manufactured goods, these resources can carry our nation to unprecedented greatness. But first, the peoples of other lands must learn of the prestige and quality of Canadian products.

One out of every three dollars we Canadians earn comes to us as a result of foreign trade. This campaign is designed to help all Canadian industries and, consequently, to help put money in the pockets of every Canadian citizen.

The House of Seagram believes that it is in the interest of every Canadian manufacturer to help the sale of all Canadian products in foreign markets. It is in this spirit that these advertisements are being produced and published throughout the world.

VAGRANT ASKED TO DEPART FOR OTHER FIELDS

John Patrick McCarthy, whose racial origin was far more obvious than his place of abode, faced Magistrate W.A. McLeod in the Coleman Police Court on Monday morning on a charge of vagrancy. This wasn't John Patrick's first appearance in a Coleman court, although one of his previous appearances was due to a benevolent regard for the liquid diet of a friend.

On that occasion, John's benevolence led him into a jail sentence for supplying liquor to an interdict. Having accepted His Majesty's hospitality for the prescribed time allotted for such questionable regard for a fellow sufferer, John lost no time in returning to his favorite haunts.

On this occasion, John was simply charged with being a vagrant and his Irish eloquence got him off with a promise that in return for his quick departure from the district his sentence would be limited to the weekend he had already spent in jail. The verdict was based on John's suggestion and Magistrate McLeod gladly took him up on it.

On the town's favorite corner, however, the betting is a ton of coal to a doughnut that John Patrick McCarthy will be heard from again.

SAYS COAL FUTURE IN ALBERTA GLOOMY

The Calgary Herald in a front page story Saturday, said Alberta's coal industry, both bituminous and domestic, faces a gloomy future.

The newspaper said it had learned from authoritative sources in the coal industry that if present trends of industrial and domestic users to switch to other forms of fuel continues, many coal miners "may be forced out of business, or the industry in general forced to a part time week." The sources were not identified.

(W. C. Whittaker, secretary of the Western Canada Bituminous Coal Operators' Association, said he had "nothing to say" when asked to comment on the story and on the outlook of the coal industry in Alberta. Other mining officials were not immediately available for comment.

Railway Change

The Herald said bituminous mines would lose about one-third of their market in the next three years through decision of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways to switch from coal to oil-burning equipment in many sections of Western Canada.

"Domestic fields also are suffering," the newspaper said "wider use of oil burning equipment (in homes and buildings) because of cheaper oil already is affecting the market. If natural gas pipelines export cheap natural gas to other prairie regions then the domestic market will be further curtailed."

Coal has been Alberta's second largest industry for the last 25 years. It was second only to agriculture. Last year coal mines had a $24,000,000 payroll and $40,000,000 was spent in production.

About 9,000 miners are employed in Western Canada's coal mines.

It's been a busy year!...

This week many thousands of Canadians will be reading the story told in Imperial Oil's annual report. It is a story of how, to meet your needs, Imperial last year found more crude oil, produced more crude, transported, refined, distributed and marketed more oil and products than ever before.

To do this we had to spend a lot of money. We sent men ranging over thousands of square miles in the search for new oil fields—and we found new oil. We built new ships... new pipe lines... new refining units... new marketing facilities... and a host of other things. Again last year we spent more money than we earned, but it was an investment in Canada's future as well as our own.

We raised most of the money we needed by borrowing and by selling some of our major investments; the rest was earnings put back into the business after paying dividends.

On the year's business we made a profit of less than a cent a gallon on products sold. This amounted to 4 and 9/10ths cents out of each sales dollar we received.

It was a busy, successful, interesting year. When it began we were sometimes hard pressed to meet all your needs; when it ended supplies were assured. It saw new oil discovered, making Canada less dependent on foreign supplies; new equipment added, helping to serve Canadians better with the products they need.

Bringing you oil is a big job—and a costly one.

If you're interested in facts . . .

1948 set new records in all phases of Imperial Oil's operations.

If the wells drilled by the company to find and produce oil in Canada during 1948 were placed end to end they would total 163 miles.

Five large tankers were added to the company's fleet; the Leduc pipe line was extended to Edmonton, and plans progressed for a pipe line from Edmonton to Regina; 4,711 tank cars moved more than 150,000 car loads of crude oil and products.

Imperial's eight refineries processed an average of 135,027 barrels per day, a new record.

Sales totalled 1,819,000,000 gallons. On its operations the company earned $16,873,163—a profit of 93/100 of a cent per gallon for each of the 1,819,000,000 gallons sold. From its investments the company earned $5,958,907.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

A Visit To The Pass

(by H. T. Halliwell)

The Crows Nest Pass mining towns with a population of approximately 10,000 constitutes an important industrial area, the sole source of its income being nature's wealth in the form of bituminous or soft coal. It is around the mining of coal that since the beginning of the 20th century the towns of Coleman, Blairmore, Bellevue, Hillcrest and Frank have been developed. Frank and Hillcrest have declined in population, though this has been offset by development in and around the other mining towns.

These towns are centres of community activity, even though many organizations function, each in its own way. There are Polish, Ukrainian, Italian, Czech-Slovak, etc., embracing in their membership immigrants from various European countries. The Scottish and the Welsh people have their organizations. But when it comes to a community drive they all pitch in and usually raise the objective.

Bellevue decided it would have an artificial ice rink, a big undertaking for a community that is not even incorporated, yet it raised sufficient to pay for it, with a substantial lift from one of the coal companies.

Coleman decided it wanted a new curling rink, as the one which had been in use for 20 years or more was sadly in need of repair. By volunteer labor it was built.

The latest achievement of note is the completion of the most up-to-date municipal hospital in the province, having 60 beds, and requiring a staff of approximately 50 to man it. Achievements such as these indicate the progressive spirit of the mining communities which, like agricultural communities, have their good and not so good times.

The talk that has been going on about the Canadian Pacific changing from the use of steam locomotives to diesel engines, causes some concern, but not any undue alarm, for it is generally conceded that despite the uses of other fuels, there will always be a market for coal; besides which other uses will be made of coal for the production of by-products.

Years ago, when natural gas was discovered in Alberta, and its substitution of coal for heating in the urban communities, such as Calgary, Lethbridge, and many smaller places, almost entirely eliminated the use of coal in those places, other sources for the sale of coal were discovered, and since 1940 the mines have enjoyed an almost unbroken run of maximum time.

It was about 1900 that the mines began to be developed on an extensive scale. In 1903 the titanic rock slide at Frank, then known as the metropolis of The Pass, wiped out more than half the village, and virtually put a stop to the mining that had been carried on at the base of Turtle Mountain, from which the enormous mass of rock was hurled across the valley in the grey dawn of an April morning. In later years a sanitarium was built, and the mineral water, smelling strongly of sulphur, was deemed a cure for many ailments. The sanitarium for a number of years was quite a social centre for the Pass residents. Later it was turned into a hospital or convalescent home for soldiers of the first world war, then for many years it remained derelict. Then some young business men with vision and enterprise utilized the basement walls as the foundation for a swimming pool, later built a dance hall and recreation centre known today as the Turtle Mountain Playgrounds, which has become a very popular resort for the local people as well as transient visitors.

The Pass contains much of interest. You may not see it if you make a hurried automobile trip. You may notice the scenery, and the rows of miners' houses, the business streets with their conglomerate assortment of buildings with many unpronounceable names indicating the owners, but you have to stay around for a while to really get an insight into the manifold activities which make up community life in the Crows Nest Pass.

To give some idea of the railroad traffic bringing out the loaded cars for distribution to the prairie provinces, it was necessary for the C.P.R. to install the block signalling system between Burns and Crows Nest to speed up the movement of coal from the various mines. Coal is king in the Crows Nest Pass, and will continue so indefinitely.

... V - ... SPRING IS HERE

At long last ... Spring is here: Yes, after a long bitter battle with old man winter, Spring is the victor. Very soon now, the miseries of the past winter will be but memories. Nature in all its splendor will awaken ... as if by magic, the fields will turn green ... flowers, trees and shrubs will bloom.

Keeping in step with nature, we awaken, we roll up our sleeves and go to work. For only by hard work can we rightfully earn a share of the "harvest of good" that is to come. We, as Lions must look about us, to see if we can lend a helping hand, in promoting some worthwhile activities that will benefit the people of our city, our state and our nation.—The Roaring Lion, Norwich, Conn.

DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT!

"Do something about it" was the cry of William Booth founder of The Salvation Army, when he saw shivering, starving men sleeping on the Thames Embankment. And Salvationists ever since have sought to obey that charge whenever and wherever confronted with human suffering and frustration.

The Salvation Army is a practical organization. It believes it should first serve the person in need, then concern itself with bringing that person into a right relationship with God.

The scope of Salvation Army activity is wide—from pre-natal care to care of the needy aged. Its interest in people is maintained during times of peace as in times of war; in periods of prosperity as in days of depression. Its round-the-world, round-the-clock ministry is sympathetically expressed in "the human touch and the understanding heart."

Beyond producing physical and moral rehabilitation, The Salvation Army works for that re-birth of soul affected by the redemptive power of Jesus Christ which is the real rehabilitation needed by the derelicts of society. There can be no greater task than this, and it is in this realm that the Salvation Army's greatest triumphs have been won. The Army recognizes that "man doth not live by bread alone," and its spiritual and material ministrations go hand in hand.

"Do something about it" is a challenge to all of us when, during the current Red Shield Appeal, The Salvation Army asks for funds to help it continue its necessary ministry. Let us, therefore, quickly and generously, "do something about it."

Hon. F. Gordon Bradley

CANADA IS A BROAD COUNTRY and its population is widely scattered. The recent entrance of Newfoundland into Confederation has widened the boundaries still farther and added a new province in which many of the people live in remote districts. Although the people of Canada are separated by such natural barriers as the Rocky Mountains, other mountain ranges and mighty rivers, a remarkable degree of unity of thought and purpose has been achieved. Rail and air communications, the press and radio have all contributed to the growth of Canadian nationhood, and as Newfoundland becomes more closely linked to the rest of the Dominion by all these means, the people of that province and those of the rest of Canada will become increasingly aware of the widening of their interests through this new relationship.

Appointment Well Received

Whether Canadians have travelled widely or not, they are generally familiar with the names of important places and the outstanding people in public life in all parts of the country. We are already beginning to be acquainted with the names of many places in Newfoundland and to know something of the political, industrial and intellectual life of the people there. One of the first men from Newfoundland who will be well known to the people of Canada is Hon. F. Gordon Bradley, who was invited by Mr. St. Laurent to represent that province in the Cabinet, as Secretary of State. Mr. Bradley's appointment, made at the time that Newfoundland entered into Confederation, has met with general approval in his own province and throughout the entire country.

Favored Union With Canada

A member of the government in Newfoundland from the time he was first elected to the Assembly, Mr. Bradley held portfolios in two succeeding administrations. In the last Assembly before Newfoundland was governed by Commission, Mr. Bradley was Leader of the Opposition. He was a strong advocate of union with Canada and led the first delegation which visited Ottawa. He was also a member of the second delegation to the capital. Mr. Bradley has a background of experience which will no doubt be of value to the government, and at the same time he will have the opportunity of learning much concerning the problems of the country which his province has so recently joined. Elected members from Newfoundland will soon sit in Parliament, and doubtless in time some representatives from that province will become leaders in the public life of the Dominion. In the meantime, a cordial welcome has been extended on behalf of the whole country to the first citizen of Newfoundland to take office in the Dominion government.

Canada's Coal Output Increases

OTTAWA.—Output of coal in Canada continued to increase during March of this year while imports were down 44 per cent. from a year ago.

Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan registered the only declines.

The bureau of statistics reported preliminary figures set coal production for March at 1,701,000 tons compared with 1,658,000 tons a year ago. During the first three months of this year production was 5,202,000 tons against 4,210,171 in the same period of 1948.

Alberta mines produced 783,000 compared with 704,071; B.C. and Yukon 179,000 compared with 126,179; Nova Scotia 500,500 against 555,147; Saskatchewan 199,000 compared with 206,967 and New Brunswick 39,500 compared to 35,335.

CAUSE FOR COMPLAINT

ERROR COST HIM $177,000

WEST BRIDGEFORD, Nottinghamshire, England.—"We trust you will have no cause for future complaint," the post office wrote Lucian De Pontino, after a letter he mailed was delayed three days when it caught in the folds of a parcel.

The Post office sent a photographic copy of the envelope to Di Pontino, showing the date of the postmark—March 18—and an endorsement saying: "Found in parcel March 21."

Di Pontino, however, is complaining. The envelope contained an entry to a football pool with all the answers correct. But the one-a-million correct forecast of scores for March 19 didn't reach the pool offices in time, and Di Pontino missed $177,000 prize.

VERY MUCH ALIVE

REGINA.—In 1911, James (Dad) Duke went to Ireland to spend his "dying" years. A doctor told him he had only six months to live. After seven years, still very much alive, he came back to Canada again. Recently he celebrated his 100th birthday.

January is usually the wettest month in the state of Idaho, and July and August are the driest.

SERIOUSLY ILL—Olivia de Havilland, 32-year-old Hollywood screen star, who may have to remain in bed until the August arrival of her baby. Ill for several weeks, Miss de Havilland has been told by her doctor that her condition is a matter of grave concern.—S.N.S. photo.

Stockholm, Sask., Gets Swedish Flag

STOCKHOLM, Sask.—Sixty-three years ago a group of Swedish settlers came to this southeast Saskatchewan district. Every July 1 they celebrate "Colony" day in conjunction with Dominion Day. A Swedish flag flies on the flagpole at the picnic ground with the Union Jack.

But over the years the Swedish flag has become tattered. This year however they will have a new one. In response to a request from Stockholm, Sask., to Stockholm, Sweden, a parcel came recently containing a letter from King Gustaf of Sweden, his autographed photo—and a large Swedish flag.

FUNNY And

OTHERWISE

"Robert" said the teacher, to drive home the lesson, which was on charity and kindness, "If I saw a man beating a donkey and stopped him from doing so, what virtue would I be showing?"

"Brotherly love," said Bobby.

Jack: "Well, did you succeed in making your girl's father toe the mark?"

Tom (sadly): "Yes, but, unfortunately, I was the mark."

"What did the landlady do when she found you had left the light burning for three days?"

"She turned us both out."

Mother (helping young son with his arithmetic): "Now, take the Smith family. There is mamma, papa, and the baby. How many does that make?"

Bright Son: "Two, and one to carry."

"What has happened to that watching business that Smith was interested in?"

"Oh, it's been wound up."

Teacher: "You were late this morning, Willie. Please bring an excuse from the head of your family?"

Willie: "Mamma's away. Is it all right for Pa to send one?"

"I hear you met Brown's wife the other day. What kind of a woman is she?"

"The kind that talks for hours about things that leave her speechless."

A boy and his mother stood looking at a dentist's showcase. "If I had to have false teeth, mother, I'd take that set," said the small boy, pointing.

"Hush, Willie," said his mother. "Haven't I told you not to pick your teeth in public?"

Policeman: "You saw this lady driving toward you. Why didn't you give her half the road?"

Unhappy Driver: "I was going to, just as soon as I could find out which half she wanted."

Quiz: "I don't know how to answer this question."

Kid: "What's it say?"

Quiz: "It says, 'Who was your mother before she was married?'"

Heck: "I didn't have any mother before she was married."

Geological Party To Study Oil Strata In Sask.

OTTAWA.—Intensive study of the oil and gas producing mesozoic strata in Saskatchewan will be conducted this summer by Dr. R. T. D. Wickenden of the geological survey of Canada, it was announced by Hon. Colin Gibson, minister of mines and resources.

Dr. Wickenden has already done a great deal of work in this field, and will co-operate with the Saskatchewan department of resources in the examination of well cores and samples. Two parties directed by graduate students will work under his supervision.

The statement says: "The mesozoic stratigraphy first became of great importance from the standpoint of gas and heavy oil production in Wainwright, Vermilion and Lloydminster areas. It has now become of importance in the production of light oil in the Woodbend field and in the Joseph Lake well, 18 miles southeast of Edmonton."

"Also the recent discovery of gas with distillate Stettler and the gas discoveries in north central Alberta, all in mesozoic strata, have further shown that it contains large reserves in both gas and oil. A knowledge of the local and regional stratigraphic relationships thus becomes of great value in the exploration for new oil fields. Dr. Wickenden and his assistants will continue their field work with the objective of collecting new data and making it available to those engaged in searching for oil and gas."

Customer: "Can you suggest some small gift suitable for my niece?"

Assistant: "What about a ki-mono?"

Customer: "No, she's not a bit musical; she couldn't play it if I bought it for her."

SCHOEPP WELL IN PRODUCTION

EDMONTON.—Hailed as one of the continent's biggest single oil wells, Imperial Schoepp No. 1 discovery well in the Golden Spike field near Edmonton has gone into production.

There was no fanfare marking the event which climaxed a five-months drilling saga during which the thickness of the oil-bearing zone was established at 545 feet.

Oil officials report the well has one of the thickest formations on the continent and one of the best from the productive standpoint.

Know Your Provinces

British Columbia

Province With A Brilliant Future

This is the fourth of a series of articles inserted in these columns pertaining to our Western provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, outlining their natural resources, industrial developments, provincial parks and lake resorts, with a view of acquainting and familiarizing our readers of the vast and wonderful Canadian West.

TO the average person, unfamiliar with the Province, British Columbia suggests a vast playground rather than an industrial centre. Actually it is both, and the industrial aspect has been developed enormously in recent years. In fact, it is doubtful if there is anywhere a country of stronger characteristics and wider versatility than British Columbia. Vigorously young, with its immense wealth of natural resources still largely unexploited, it offers a most attractive field to those possessed of vision and foresight and a proper appreciation of its possibilities.

Its area of 366,253 square miles makes it the third largest Province, and larger by 50,000 square miles than the combined States of Washington, Oregon, and California—or, to use a European parallel, approximately equal to the combined areas of the United Kingdom, France, Holland, Belgium, and Denmark. On the other hand, its population numbers over 1,000,000, or just under three persons to the square mile, as against the dense congestion of Northwestern Europe.

In a country so enormous and so richly endowed with timber, minerals, water-power, and fruitful soil, naturally the opportunities for development are very great, and when one takes into account its strategic position upon the trade routes of the world, its economic importance becomes apparent at once.

The climate for the most part is suave and cool, and ideal for the development of the highest industrial efficiency. Raw materials are present in prodigious abundance, and the greatest market for these reconstructed world is directly at its doors. Living conditions are delightful, and the social amenities such as to attract the most fastidious. It is served by two great transcontinental railways, has an unparalleled coastal service, and its ocean ports are open the year round. It is freely admitted that a brilliant future is in store for the Pacific Northwest, which means British Columbia so far as Canada and the British Commonwealth are concerned.

Competent authorities, with facilities for world-wide observation, favour Vancouver as the next great metropolis. Already it has assumed a new importance as the world's chief grain port, and its swelling tide of commerce is a clear indication of the modern trend. There is no doubt that Vancouver's destined to occupy a commanding position in the general realignment, and that the future holds brilliant prospects for that young and vigorous city. Colourful, magnetic, and splendidly alive, it offers in itself a shining example of the possibilities inherent to a country which refuses to stagnate.

Victoria, the capital, unquestionably is one of the most charming cities in the Western Hemisphere, with an atmosphere peculiarly its own, not easily analysed, but wonderfully appealing to the person whose tastes incline towards a place of settled and established prosperity.

Both cities are extremely fortunate in their environments, which are strikingly beautiful and contribute enormously to the pleasure of living in them.

From the industrial standpoint, New Westminster ranks second in importance and Victoria third. The Capital City is residential rather than industrial, and while its industries are highly important, they do not occupy the picture to the same extent as in those cities whose industries have made them prominent. The adjoining municipality of Esqui-mo, however, has unique facilities for ship-repairing and kindred trades, and the second largest dry-dock on the American Continent.

Naturally in a Province so situated, with timber, minerals, and land in such overwhelming quantity, the primary industries are extractive; that is to say, they rest upon the process of extracting the raw materials from the soil and from the sea. Logging and lumbering come first, followed normally by mining, agriculture, and commercial fishing. But, apart from these, enormous strides have been made in the field of manufacturing, and British Columbia has advanced from a position of small importance in that regard to third place among the Provinces as a producer of manufactured goods.

It is seldom that one finds industry and scenic grandeur so closely associated as in British Columbia, and a tour of its scenic parts gives one a wonderful comprehensive idea of its many-sidedness, its infinite resources, its marvellous versatility. Without turning aside from the main highways, of which there are some 22,027 miles, one sees it from every angle and is presented with a complete cross-section of its whole economic structure.

In the Okanagan, fruit-growing transcends all other activities, and apples, pears, peaches, plums, apricots, and cherries are produced in rich abundance, and a wide variety of vegetables. The great central portion known as the Cariboo is devoted to cattle-raising, the Bulkley and Nechako Valleys to mixed farming, and in the east, among the grandeur of the Kootenays, one encounters vast power developments and colossal mines.

Scenery of compelling grandeur is a feature to be found everywhere in British Columbia. Jagged ranges, remote snow-clad peaks, rolling foothills, matted with heavy timber, wide fertile valleys, great lakes and rivers flowing broadly and strongly to the sea combine to form a picture not easily forgotten. As may be supposed, it forms an important asset and, in fact, the Province is beginning actively to cultivate. Canada's revenue from tourist travel is enormous, and British Columbia participates handsomely, from its marvellous scenery and its equally marvellous game resources.

PALS TO THE END

INDIANAPOLIS.—The big collie and the little white shag dog were pals to the end. When the little one died beneath the wheels of a speeding auto, the collie raced to the rescue but was too late. The collie pulled his little pal from the street and then stood a day and night until city officials took little shag away.

Forecasts Aid For Gold Mines

VANCOUVER.—Prime Minister St. Laurent said in Vancouver recently that something will be done soon about British Columbia's 21 gold mines that can't operate for only $35 an ounce.

He said he believed the aid that would be proposed in legislation to be introduced in the House of Commons would apply to all gold producers, as previously under the Gold Mines Assistance Act.

He said Canada needed all the gold she could get, and that the mining group is entitled to a fair profit.

The wind in their branches seems to say,
It is Spring!

The birds have a song as they fly through the air;
A message for mortals they send everywhere,
It is Spring!

The grass has its music if we will but hear;
A song from the blossoms about to appear,
It is Spring!
